

Collecting THOUSANDS of Chicken Eggs from our SUPERB Laying Boxes

Farm Up
302K subscribers

Subscribe

4.2K

Share

Download

...

The birds are being fed from the top of the building and we are going to be collecting eggs today from 10,000 birds

We have placed the empty trays around the building and will start collecting the eggs already laid by the chickens into the laying boxes. We pick eggs from the laying boxes continuously through the day where it rolls to the edges.

We have 5,000 birds at the top level and 5,000 birds at the bottom level.

Those feeders are quite catchy and look like a system. I'd love to see how the feeders are fed through those pipes.

This is about 5-6 inches of litter that has been put down since the birds came about a year ago,

The eggs are about 50g and it is cold inside here to be sold. We are having about 700 trays of 30 eggs daily here.

The eggs are cleaned with no water and sorted here before being ready for the market.