

Starting A Layer Poultry Farm

Layer poultry farming means raising egg laying poultry birds with the end goal of business egg creation. Layer chickens are a particularly unique types of hens, which should be raised from when they are one day old.

They begin laying eggs industrially from 18-19 weeks old enough. They remain laying eggs constantly till their 72-78 weeks old enough. They can create around one kg of eggs by devouring around 2.25 kg of food during their egg laying period. To deliver half and half eggs layer, think about the different attributes of chicken and hen prior to rearing. There are different kinds of exceptionally egg useful layer breeds accessible all through the world.

Layer Hen Selection:

You need to remember some fundamental data prior to choosing the layer hens for your poultry farming business. You need to choose those breeds which are appropriate for your layer poultry farming business and can create well in your space.

Keeping Chicks for Layer Poultry Farming:

During the primary weeks after birth, numerous chicks would rather not huddle. They start starting with one spot then onto the next. So you need to make satisfactory water savoring frameworks their brooder house, and you need to prepare them for drinking water. Blend 5% glucose in with water, so they can without much of a stretch get energy.

Contact us

Vaccination and it's Importance for Layer Poultry Farming:

Vaccination program is an unquestionable necessity for chicks for keeping them liberated from a wide range of infections. The principal benefit of poultry inoculation are recorded underneath.

- Timely vaccination makes disease resistance power in the body of chick.
- Help to keep the hen liberated from infective poultry sicknesses.
- Sickness predominance will be less.
- Death rate will decrease.
- Also, low death rate = more creation = more benefit

Egg Production for Layer Poultry Farming:

Egg production from a Layer Poultry Farming relies upon the consideration and ranch the board. On the off chance that you take great consideration of your birds and oversee them appropriately, the creation and benefit will be high.

- Within the initial 20 weeks of age, around 5% of hens begin laying eggs.
- Around 10% birds begin laying at their 21 weeks old enough.
- At the point when they arrive at 26 to 30 weeks old enough, they produce profoundly. Despite the fact that, it could be different relying upon their strain.
- Subsequent to laying a most extreme number of eggs, they ordinarily quit laying for a couple of days.
- What's more, after this period, their egg creation could lessens gradually.
- Egg laying rate and size of eggs increments continuously.
- The hens develop till their 40 weeks old enough.
- Weight and size of eggs increments till their 50 weeks old enough.

Feeding for Layer Poultry Farming:

There are many organizations accessible all through the world, which are creating business endlessly feed supplements for layer chickens. You can purchase feed from your nearby market or make the feed at your own home. You must be certain that the endlessly feed supplements you purchased are enhanced with fundamental food esteem. Protein, Vitamins and Mineral are vital for laying hens which is influencing the nature of eggs, layer poultry fruitfulness and layer bird's wellbeing

Contact us

Water Management for Layer Poultry Farming:

Chickens wellbeing rely upon the stockpile of unadulterated, spotless and crisp drinking water. You need to give satisfactory water as indicated by the interest of your laying hens. For filtering the water, blend Aquacure. Decide a reasonable spot to keep the water pot inside the poultry house. Supply cold water during summer season and blistering climate, and marginally heated water in chilly climate or winter season.

Marketing for Layer Poultry Farming:

Eggs are put away in a cool room at around 13oC and moved in a protected truck. Tragically, many shops selling eggs don't store them under ideal circumstances. In the home and shop circumstance it is ideal to store them at ordinary cooler temperature (4-6oC). Marketing includes a scope of costs, contingent upon the various sizes of egg, various brands, or different contrasts which draw specifically purchasers. Unfenced and fat altered eggs are among the assortments accessible.

Contact UsInstagramFacebook← Previous PostNext Post →

Related Posts

Starting A Poultry Business In Nigeria

1 Comment / Poultry Business / By SPFS 2021

POULTRY PRODUCTION

1 Comment / Poultry Business / By SPFS 2021

Contact us

